

FILE NO: [REDACTED] - [REDACTED]
SUBJECT: TREASON, CURRENT WHEREABOUTS OF THE [REDACTED] DEVICES

Two months have elapsed since the successful procurement of the artifacts [REDACTED], [REDACTED], and [REDACTED], by the Bureau. In the last weeks, unforeseen developments have significantly compromised the operation and the artifacts' current status and location have become uncertain.

Betrayal of Operatives

The BRLDA field operatives who were in possession of the artifacts have betrayed us. Details of their betrayal and motives remain unknown, relating to [REDACTED], however, they appear to have engaged in actions contravening BRLDA protocol and compromised the security of the artifacts. In an unprecedented move, these operatives have erased all records and mentions of themselves from the BRLDA databases at [REDACTED]. As a result, they've effectively become 'ghosts,' with no information available on their identities or background.

Current Artifact Status

The location of the safe house, originally undisclosed, is now unknown due to data erasure, leaving the artifacts' whereabouts uncertain. It is highly likely the operatives, wherever they are, have the artifacts with them.

Next Steps

A high-priority task force has been assembled to conduct a full-scale investigation into the matter. All BRLDA personnel are ordered to cooperate fully with the task force and report any information that could lead to the recovery of the artifacts or identification of the defectors.

Due to the gravity of the situation, a strict information blackout is in effect until further notice. Any breach of this directive will result in [REDACTED] or [REDACTED].

Signature: [REDACTED]
Director, Bureau of Really Large Data Analysis

